

“How long will the global recession last ?”

Speaker: Mr John Walker

Chairman and Chief Economist, Oxford Economics, UK

Friday, 9 October 2009, 4:30 pm to 5:45 pm

Hong Kong General Chamber of Commerce
Chamber Theatre, 22/F United Centre, 95 Queensway, Hong Kong

- How much longer does the global recession have to run?
- Has enough been done to tackle the banking crisis?
- Is the monetary stimulus working?
- Risks to the global and China outlook?
- What is now the range of possible scenarios and their likelihood?

Speaker:

- John Walker, Chairman and Chief Economist, Oxford Economics, UK

Commentators:

- Lok Sang Ho, Professor of Economics, Director, Centre for Public Policy Studies, Lingnan University
- David O'Rear, Chief Economist, Hong Kong General Chamber of Commerce

The HKEA is co-organising this seminar with the Hong Kong General Chamber of Commerce. John Walker is Chairman and Chief Economist of Oxford Economics (formerly Oxford Economic Forecasting), which he founded in 1981. Oxford Economics is a commercial venture with Oxford University's business college to provide economic advice, forecasts and analytical tools to international institutions, governments and blue-chip corporations.
